

India well-positioned to provide globally-skilled workforce: MEA

NEW DELHI, Dec 9: India is well-positioned economically and geopolitically to create and provide globally-skilled workforce, an official of the Ministry of External Affairs said today.

Addressing the 9th Global Summit on Skill Development, MEA Secretary (CPV & OIA) Sanjay Bhattacharyya said India stands ready to improve the presence of highly-skilled workers and professionals through mutually-beneficial arrangements with Europe, the US and Japan.

Today's world is characterised by globalisation that thrives on mobility of global talent. Specialisation, domain-specific knowledge and skills are key to success and will also determine employability of the youth, who form India's demographic dividend and an advantage the country shall have into the second half of 21st century, according to Bhattacharyya.

Speaking on 'The Future of Work -- Creating Globally Competitive Skilled Workforce' the senior MEA official said India was well-positioned in traditional labour markets in the Gulf and Europe.

"India's success story in the Gulf is well-known and there are over 9 million Indian workers and professionals in these countries," he said.

"The leadership in the Gulf has acknowledged their contribution to the development of the region and Indians are the preferred option for Gulf countries."

Noting that India's share in the European labour market has also shown positive signs, Bhattacharyya said a recent Organisation for Economic Cooperation (OECD) study revealed that of the 12 crore migrants living in OECD countries, 30-35 per cent were highly-educated with academic and vocational training.
